

A memorandum of cooperation between LEONARDA-SERVICE LLC and Grupo PITABEL (Angola) was signed at the Russia-Africa Economic Forum in Sochi

At the Russia-Africa summit in Sochi, a memorandum of understanding was signed between the Angolan company Grupo Pitabel (signed by Chairman of the Board of Directors Abel Domingos Segunda) and the innovative Russian company LEONARDA-SERVICE LLC (signed by CEO Andrey Rezvov). The Russian company specializes in the manufacture of high-tech medical products, as well as developments in the field of thermoelectricity, heat transfer and energy conservation.

It is noted that the product range of LEONARDA-SERVICE LLC contains innovative medical products that improve the quality of life of people with disabilities and people with chronic diseases, as well as positively affect the reproductive ability of men and women of all ages. The general director of the company, Andrey Rezvov, is the author of 27 patents of the Russian Federation for various inventions, while the top manager personally developed special innovative medical devices that significantly reduce the rehabilitation time of athletes, as well as improve their physical abilities before performing.

The parties expect that the memorandum will become an important mechanism for increasing the competitiveness of business in the Russian Federation and the Republic of Angola, will create a basis for the development of close commercial ties and increase the volume of bilateral trade and investment between the two countries.

High-tech Russian exports of medical supplies to the countries of South-West Africa have not only economic, but also important political significance, sending a signal that Russia is returning to the region. Russian-Angolan relations have always been characterized by friendship and openness, and the export of innovative medical technologies, which are extremely important for Angola, will only help to strengthen them

Andrey Slepnev, General Director of JSC Russian Export Center
